TYING UP A DECADE
AND UNWRAPPING
ANOTHER

The College Fiddler Presents

Fiddler On The Roof

Oct. 26, 27, 30, 31
November 1, 2, 3

The Walter Community College Auditorium

8:00 P.M.

Adult $5.00      Junior, Senior, and Student $2.00

We live. We learn. We grow.
We remember. Our past and our futures are important for our new decade, just as they were important in our last decade. Let us glance back, and let us go on.

We enjoy ourselves, we enjoy each other, and we enjoy our time. While many prefer to live in the present, others desire a time of our own. A college education influences the way in which we come into our own. It is, we hope, the way to success.

THE COUGAR STAFF

"Are we going to have the yearbook again this year? Do we have enough deposits? Can we make the deadlines? How big is our staff? A new yearbook room? What in the world can our theme be? We get credit for working this year? I wish we'd get paid! Dr. Hendrix is taking on the newspaper too? How will she have time for our problems? Many questions, some answers, more problems and a few solutions went in to putting together the 1979-80 Cougar. It was an experience for us and we hope you like it. We think you will!

THE COUGAR CRY STAFF

The Cougar Cry, the college newspaper, has gone through considerable changes in the past year. Before the Fall Quarter, there was virtually no editor or staff and the paper was compiled through reporters pulled off the street, so to speak, several advisors, and much perspiration. There is now a complete and efficient staff which strives to put more work and more interest into the publications. Dr. Jo Hendrix is the new advisor, with Alan Whittington and Dr. Bob Thompson contributing their usual efforts. Talents of photography are given by David Roselle, David Parker, Carl Ware, Mary Nell Nichols, and Denise Cleary.

THE COLLEGE THEATRE

The College Theatre was in production all year long. Audiences were dazzled in the summer by the Gay Nineties revue No, No, a Million Times No! A Fiddler on the Roof played to seven full houses; people stood in line to have the cast and orchestra bring smiles to their lips and tears to their eyes. The Children's Theatre took nearly two hundred children and produced a festive circus. Students got their feet wet directing the various segments of You Know I Can't Hear YOu When The Water's Running. Mayfest brought in springtime with art, music, dance, and drama. The College Theatre also cooperated with outside interests to produce Amahl and the Night Visitors and The Juggler of Notre Dame for Christmas, and an opera in the spring. With Bud Mayes, his actors, and his "techies" staying busy, it was always SHOWTIME!

MUSIC WITH STYLE

The WCC Symphony is in its sixth season and is doing quite well. It is a community orchestra with a Board of Directors apart from the college. One hour of credit is available to participants. The Chamber Music Ensemble was originally formed in 1977 as a chamber orchestra that functioned as a workshop for the purpose of a more individualized instructional ensemble. Presently consisting of piano, violin, viola, and cello, the ensemble performs in concert here and gives demonstration concerts in the public schools. It also gives featured programs for various area organizations.

ALL THAT JAZZ

Because Jazz is such an individual style of music, its scope has widened greatly through the years. The WCC Jazz Ensemble has become quite popular in the recent past. They have performed everything from swing to pop, both here and at off-campus locations. The Ensemble members have recently been attired in brand new tuxedos, and the vocalists Marguerite Moore and Marie Williams have donned new silver lamé dresses. Audiences dazzled by sight and sound have given the group standing ovations every time.

WHAT A DISASTER!

Ever wonder how a hospital and rescue squad can know what to do in the event of a major disaster? In the Fall of 1979, a collection of students helped them out by creating and simulating an airplane crash. Some were "dead" and others were made-up ingeniously to look burned and otherwise injured. All were placed in positions that made the situation look as real as possible and the emergency personnel were required to attend to them in the same manner as they would in an actual disaster. The whole project was quite interesting and very valuable.

FEAST YOUR EYES!

During this academic year, two appreciation banquets were held at Wilkes Community College. One was given by the Endowment Corporation for those who had made a contribution to the college during the previous year. Another was given for the Advisory Committees of the different programs and service areas at WCC. The food was prepared by the college's Restaurant Management Class under the direction of Bob Johnston. Students worked as hostesses, waitresses, and waiters during these important events.
